

POEM TITLE: OUR WORLD

We look around and what do we see,
a world full of people like you and me.
But we don't realise what's happening in our world,
it's like we have forgotten and turned:
Animals suffering because of us,
Some of us help them - that's a plus.
We need to do more, let's see what we can do,
I can help and you can too.
First thing to do is stop the littering,
and help the seas to start again glittering.
Another thing is we should stop polluting the air,
and show everybody that we really care.
Go on walks and not in the car,
enjoy the fresh air even if it is a little far.
We need our planet that is true,
but our planet needs us too.
Recycling cans, reducing waste,
this is what makes our world a better place.
