The final halloween

Omar Abu

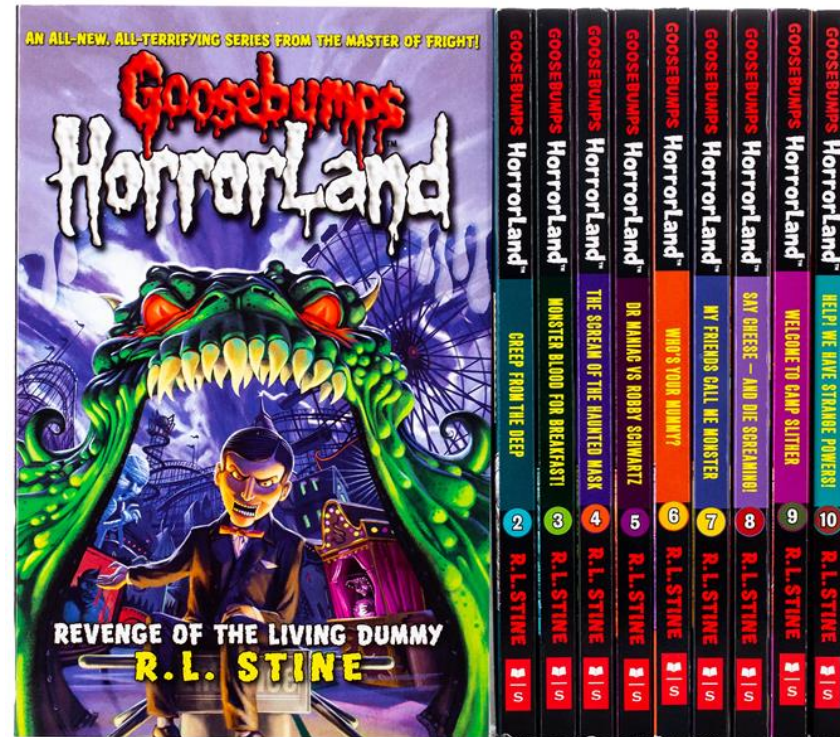

Halloween was always a really fun time during the year. The Spooky stories, the horrifying films, the spectacular decorations and of course trick or treat. I loved trick or treat. Every year, me and Fuji - My best friend - go trick or ~~treat~~ treating and try to see who can collect the most sweets. And if I'm being honest Fuji is ^{way} ~~was~~ too sly and stealthy for my bucket of sweets to be fuller than his by midnight. However this one halloween, was my last halloween. Hi, I'm Axel, and this is my story.

October 31st, 2007

It was a wet, rainy, halloween night. The streets were filled with bright orange lights to illuminate the darkness of the night sky. Just like last year, we had alot of fun trick or treating. It was all going really smooth, in fact it seemed to be going a bit too smooth. I finally, for the first time, collected more sweets ~~than~~ than Fuji. It was great.

The neighbourhood that we were ~~collected~~ collecting the sweets from was ~~surrounded~~ ^{surrounded} by trees that lead into the woods. The neighbourhood was really nice though. The decorations were beautiful and the area was relatively ~~empty~~ empty.

Well done to Omar Abu, in 9S, for this frighteningly brilliant story! You've won the BIG prize- 10 Goosebumps books!

Around 9 pm, Fuji went to the corner shop to buy this really cool, glow in the dark bouncy ball. The bouncy ball that he bought ~~was~~ had a pumpkin design and was really light. I ~~ran~~ raced to the end of the empty road and Fujita on the opposite way. We were now on separate ends ~~of~~ on the deserted road.

"Ready Axel!" Fuji called out. I nodded. Fuji then flung the ball really high towards me and I tried my best to catch it but the ball just glided past me and into the woods. I flew into the woods.

"Don't worry I'll go get it" I yelled, before darting into the woods to get the glow in the dark ball. But the only thing that I saw was a very peculiar man in dingy clothes. His damp hair hung down the front, back and sides of his head. His shoes were also far from polished and there was ~~also~~ a horrid ~~x~~ stench coming from his direction. I froze as the man just stared at me with his eyes wide open. I gulped.

I decided to walk a different direction, acting like what I just saw was my imagination. But then, something dreadful happened. The dingy creep began chasing me. He had many sticks in his hands with sharp edges. ~~I~~ really I scampered away from him as he threw sticks at me as if they were javelins. However most of the sticks just flew past me but the last ^{one} pierced through ^{the} my flesh on my right leg.

"AAAA G-GGHHHHH!" I cried out in absolute agony. I soon began to feel ~~hot~~ hot water run down my leg. I looked down at and it wasn't hot water. It was crimson blood. But I still continued running as adrenaline was rushing through my veins. I tried my best to ~~run~~ run as fast as possible without slipping on the wet terrain, but with the pain in my my legs, it just wasn't possible.

"SPLASH!" I fell directly into a puddle with brown, mucky water. But now the man wasn't chasing me anymore, in fact he was gone. Not in sight. I slowly stumbled my way out the ~~to~~ woods and told Fuji about what had happened.

"So you got chased by a pedophile, where's Chris Hansen when you need him!" Fuji joked.
"Now ain't the time for jokes!" I snapped.
Fuji then ~~slow~~ saw the blood trickling down my leg and immediately called an ambulance. The ambulance arrived and I was rushed to the hospital.

I was on the first floor of the 3 story hospital when I layed down in ~~bed~~ ^{bed} my hospital. I was asleep. I was then suddenly woken up by a loud thud. The thudding continued and when I looked out the window I saw something chilling, something terrifying, something that made my heart skip a beat. It was the creepy man that I saw in the woods. He grinned at me very freakishly before quickly walking away, leaving behind a trail of terror and ~~my~~ ^{my} story mystery...

Well done to Mubarak Lawal, in 7E, for this terrifying tale! I hope you enjoy your prize- the Stranger
Things graphic novel!

Title: Born From Darkness

By: Mubarak Fortune Lawal

Andromede, Earth 169,

A baby's parents die when she was three in a fire accident by an assassin. The baby's mom hid her in the snow. Her couldn't think of a safer location as to the peril they were faced with.

Pg 1
Luckily, the baby survives while her parents burnt to ashes as the assassin had a laugh full of deranged madness, when he was sure his victims; Karl and Kate - were their names - were deformed from existence, he vanished - "never to be seen again."

Iris at a young age had the ability of retentive memory. And because of this,
it let her relive the nightmares of how her parents died. When she was just two and a half Androe years old, her planet got invaded by "the Autumnators", they were cold, disciplined and strangely straight warriors and creatures. Sadly, they defeated the Andromedonians. Iris's adopting parents Lian and Dan were also soldiers - so, Lian, who was Kale's sister: Iris's aunt, put her in an escape pod and released. Her last words to Iris were the same as Kale's "Live up to your full potential, fear no one and be a good girl for me okay". Iris got blasted into space heading for "Thoraxi, Earth 469".

Thoraxi, Earth 469,

Iris landed on Free-day, 13 October in a farm house. This day on Earth 469 is "Día de Muertos" - Day of the Dead also called Halloween by the Ananassians. The owners of the farm, two old people in their 70s or 60s; a man and a woman, they were in shock, devastated and heartbroken after almost half of the shed, it was a little girl in a pod with a piece of paper sticking out of her hood. The old lady picked it up and read it out loud - as the lady read the words "Andromeda, Earth 169", Iris glowed a dark-rose-red colour. "Take care of my baby girl", the oldies knew their duty was now to protect this child no matter what!

Nine years later,

Iris has a nightmare about her mom and Aunt die saving her. She wakes up in a dark, gloomy space, there's nothing but darkness but, a hand appears out of nowhere. The hand had a knife, was drenched with blood and was floating without an arm holding it up. Iris swore it was just a second past and a scary, creepy and smily clown mask appeared right in front of her face. She noticed something [gasp]... The mask was skin and was roughly cut as if it was done with a carving knife which the mysterious hand was holding. The mask said to Iris "Your turn" in a creepy, squeaky tone. And now it was the hand in front of her and the mask had vanished. The creepy voice was back, "Like I said, your turn", the knife, now pointing to Iris's silky face. "SHICKK"

"Haaaaa!!", Iris jolted out of bed into a karate defense position. Iris pushed down stairs to a devastating sight, the two oldies were dead and they were robbed off almost everything in the house except upstairs.

Suddenly, all the lights went out and the sky outside was dark now, the same darkness as in her dream. And there was the mask and the hand with the knife. Again, the creepy voice came "remember me?"
"SHICKK"... The End.

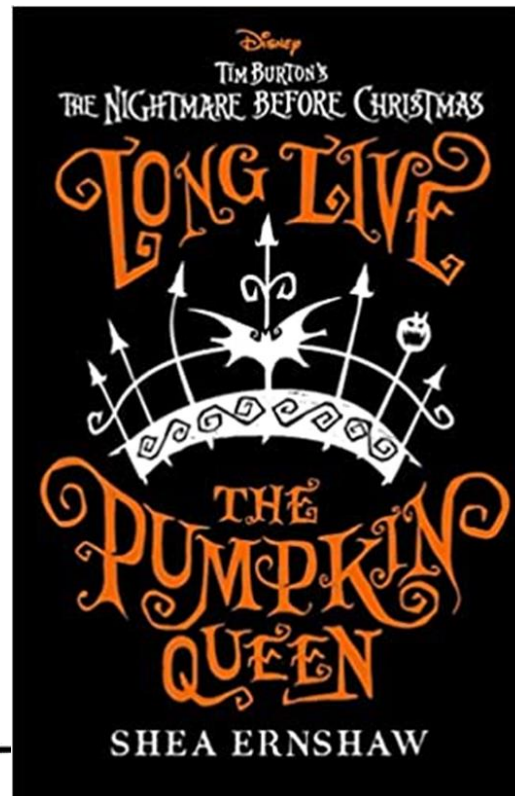

Horror nights

One grim night it was the night before Halloween every one was out shopping for sweets and decor I was left alone in the house I was watching a movie it was Scream RING! RING! my phone started to ring I screamed and my dog and cat jumped up "What happened?" asked my dog Bella I made them a thing that let them speak "Yeah you scared me" she said my cat Scor mie "Sorry my phone rang" I replied both laughing I looked at my phone it was my friends they said where we are meeting for tomorrow we are going to a haunted hotel called Horror nights.

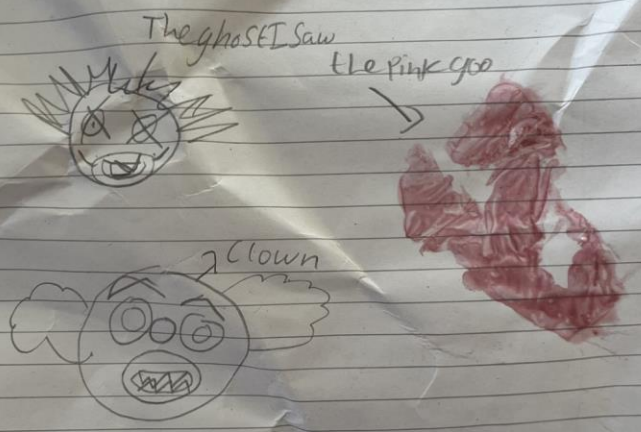

As we arrived a clown greeted us and Layla screamed and hid behind the (She's my best friend) they took us to our room me and Layla were in the same room and then January and May were in a room together we put our things away and then met up we were going to a ventur (both of our friends) we were in the hall way it looked abandoned I looked down the hallway and I saw a girl's face into the dark then I got a cold chill down my spine I screamed and told everyone to run we ran into our rooms I explained to everyone what I saw and told them I saw Layla looked pale she started to say "K... You saw A GHOST?" I replied when a red slip skirted I then said why don't we do our food?" Layla nodded I picked up my phone and called them I went outside to write I looked down and I saw a cat I struck it but then it looked up at me it was a dead cat I carried it and stuffed to cry I looked upon I told Layla what happened she said its so scary and that our food is coming.

Well done Keanna Green, in 7E, for this wonderfully scary story!

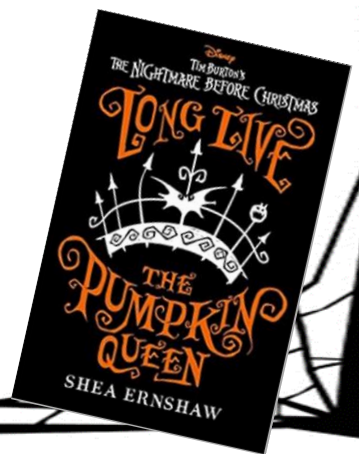

You've won the brand new sequel to The Nightmare Before Christmas- 'Long Live the Pumpkin Queen'!

We packed up the next day but as we got into the car clowns came out chased us out one of the clowns had some weird goo and they left someone on the car as we left the car park
we saw another ghost in the way some had black face things as I looked behind us the clowns chased us but then they got out the car it looked like she was in trouble she had joined them now
